

SALT LAKE DAILY HERALD

FRIDAY MORNING, OCT. 15, 1880.

THE DAILY HERALD is published every morning, Monday excepted, at East Temple Street, near First South, Salt Lake City, by the HERALD PUBLISHING AND PRINTING COMPANY. Subscription price $10.00 per annum, postage included; parts of a year at the same rate. To weekly subscribers, collection made by carriers, 25c a week. THE SEMI-WEEKLY HERALD is published every Wednesday and Saturday morning, at $3.00 a year; six months, $1.75, postage included. THE WEEKLY HERALD is published every Thursday morning, at $2 a year; six months, $1.25, postage included. Postage outside the U. S. and Canada, extra.

DELEGATE ELECTION, Tuesday, Nov. 2, 1880.

PEOPLE'S TICKET.

"THE HIGHEST POSSIBLE LIBERTY TO MAN AND WOMAN."

For Delegate to Congress,
HON. GEO. Q. CANNON.

MOTTO of the Salt Lake democrat:
Dum spiro, spero.

If "no news is good news," Salt Lake has been indulging in a delightful feast for three days.

Rev. GILBERT DE LA MATTE, the greenback congressman of Indiana, who has just been defeated, hasn't a very high regard for the leaders of the radical party. The other day, in a political speech, the greenback apostle said: "The republican leaders from the crown of their heads to the soles of their feet, are as corrupt as hell."

A little incident has come to our knowledge, which will bear relating, inasmuch as the right of way for the northern section of the Jordan and Salt Lake Canal is now being arranged for. The new route chosen will take the canal through an elegant and valuable property, one upon which many thousands of dollars have been spent within the past few years, and which is to be still more beautified and improved by the expenditure of other thousands. The canal will not only cross the premises at an inconvenient place, but will interfere with granaries and other buildings. It was feared that a good deal of difficulty and expense might be necessary in arranging for the right of way across the premises, and the other day the Mayor and engineer of the canal called upon the owner of the property with the view of talking about terms, etc. After going over the ground, and noting the exact route of the canal, the proprietor of the place remarked that the canal was not only a benefit but a necessity, and he would therefore ask nothing for the land or right of way through his premises. The property referred to is that elegant residence and grounds at the southeast corner of the city, and the generous owner, Mr. J. T. Gilmer, of Gilmer & Salisbury. We have published this incident without the knowledge of the parties, for the sake of publicly thanking Mr. Gilmer on behalf of the citizens of Salt Lake. It is a fact that great and unexpected difficulty has been encountered almost from the beginning, in obtaining the right of way and title to the land over which the canal runs. The prices that some people along the route have asked and are asking for their land, is simply astonishing. In some instances more has been charged for the canal strip than the entire farm of the greedy owner was worth. An impression seems to prevail in certain quarters that the canal fund is a thing to be preyed upon, and a round price paid to one usually causes the next man to put up the price of his land and estimate higher the damage to his property. Mr. Gilmer's action is in striking contrast to that of the majority of those owning property along the route of the canal, that we think it worthy of record.

"NO COAL TO-DAY," was the discouraging legend that greeted those who went to the agency office, on Thursday, to purchase coal. At the same time a wind was blowing that pierced to the marrow, and fine snow was drifting through the air. Yesterday was decidedly wintry, the first really wintry day of the season. That fact made the "no coal to-day," painfully suggestive, and very naturally excited some alarm. It winter opens with a coal famine, what may be inferred before the return of June, when stores can be carried to the vacant coal sheds and people camp out in tents? It is not fair to condemn the local agent, as we are assured that he is powerless to remedy the wrong. The fault—the almost crime—of placing the city in the fix that it finds itself in to-day, must be charged against the Union Pacific Railway. It cannot, or will not, furnish coal, and if possible will not permit others to supply it. That is the exact condition of affairs. The Rock Springs and Red Oak beds belong to the company, which also owns some of the Weber beds, and by reason of freight discrimination keeps coal from the other Weber veins out of Salt Lake. The Pleasant Valley people can send no coal here except as the Union Pacific permits it. The consequence is Salt Lake must regulate the temperature of their homes to the liking of the U. P., and go without fires until the U. P. is in a mood to let them strike a match. It is truly a sad condition of affairs, and one not conducive to kindly feelings for the great corporation which every day furnishes stronger proof that it is ruthless and cruel. In this connection we may appropriately cite an instance of how one coal-holding company, and its little company that has been struggling all summer to construct a narrow-gauge railroad from Coalville to Park City, a distance of twenty-three miles, has finally completed its grade ready for the rails; these latter have been purchased and part of them are at Ogden, where they have been lying for several days because of the exorbitant rate for transportation charged by the Union Pacific. We understand the price asked for taking the rails from Ogden to Coalville, forty miles, is $35 a car, or about four times the price asked from ordinary shippers. What makes the matter worse is the fact that sometime ago the Union Pacific offered to carry the rails for $35 per car, which also was an outrageous rate. Of course the object is transparent. The Union Pacific is running a spur to Park City, and is doing what it can to prevent the competition that the little narrow-gauge would afford. It fortunately so happens that some of the wealthiest mining companies of the Park are financially interested in the Eastern, and will be its patrons, whatever reduction in freight the U. P. may make; and the residents generally are so indignant over the baseless conduct of the Union Pacific that they assert that where it is possible, the Utah Eastern will receive their patronage. There was no occasion for more than one railroad into Park City, but it is apparent now that there must and will be two. Neither should there have been occasion for two lines between Salt Lake and the coal beds; but every day furnishes convincing proof that two are necessary. The sooner the second is in operation the better for the 35,000 people in Salt Lake, Davis and Tooele Counties, who are at the mercy of a corporation that has often shown it does not know the meaning of the word. If anything will continue and hasten the Utah Eastern from the Park to this city, it will be the repetition of the notice "No coal to-day," which sent a shudder over so many people on Thursday.

LATEST TELEGRAMS.

THE ELECTIONS.

Republicans Still Jubilant and Counting Unabated Chickens.

Nothing Definite, and Details Still Wanting.

A Slight Reduction in Republican Alleged Majorities.

OKIO.

Cincinnati, 13.—Unofficial returns from the whole of Hamilton County give Townsend, republican, for secretary of state, 34,129; Lang, democrat, 31,840; Townsend's majority, 2,289. McElvaine, republican, for judge of supreme court, 34,502; Follett, democrat, 31,618; McElvaine's majority, 2,884. Democratic gain on secretary of state over the vote for governor last year, 1,850; democratic gain on judge of the supreme court, 761. Butterworth, republican, congressman, First District, majority 1,802; Young, Second District, 1,007. The republican elect the entire county ticket by majorities ranging from 1,245 to 3,371.

Columbus, 13.—This, Franklin County, complete, shows the election of the entire democratic county ticket by a majority of from 591 to 1,046. The total vote given for Lloyd, greenback, for secretary of state, was 35 in the county, and for Doane, prohibition, only 43. Converse has 331 majority for Congress in this district.

Columbus, 14.—The republican state committee have returns from eighty-four out of eighty-eight counties, which show republican gains of 5,599 and democratic gains of 3,731. The net republican gain for Townsend, secretary of state, is 1,818. At the democratic headquarters the returns have been gathered from various sources so that now all the counties have been heard from. According to these figures the democratic gain for Lang, secretary of state, is 3,963; gains for Townsend, republican, are 5,144; net democratic gain, 2,849.

INDIANA.

Indianapolis, 13.—Four hundred precincts show a democratic gain of 2,494; republican gain of 5,873; net republican gain, 3,379.

Indianapolis, 14.—Additional returns, this morning, do not change the estimate given, yesterday, on the state ticket. Peale, republican, for Congress, in the Seventh District, is elected. The congressional delegation stands, republicans, 8; democrats, 6.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Washington, 13.—The news to-day of republican triumphs in Ohio have been heard from. According to these figures the democratic gain for Lang, secretary of state, is 3,963; gains for Townsend, republican, are 5,144; net democratic gain, 2,849.

Indianapolis, 14.—Additional returns, this morning, do not change the estimate given, yesterday, on the state ticket. Peale, republican, for Congress, in the Seventh District, is elected. The congressional delegation stands, republicans, 8; democrats, 6.

Washington, 13.—The news to-day of republican triumphs in Ohio have been heard from. According to these figures the democratic gain for Lang, secretary of state, is 3,963; gains for Townsend, republican, are 5,144; net democratic gain, 2,849.

Indianapolis, 14.—Additional returns, this morning, do not change the estimate given, yesterday, on the state ticket. Peale, republican, for Congress, in the Seventh District, is elected. The congressional delegation stands, republicans, 8; democrats, 6.

Washington, 13.—The news to-day of republican triumphs in Ohio have been heard from. According to these figures the democratic gain for Lang, secretary of state, is 3,963; gains for Townsend, republican, are 5,144; net democratic gain, 2,849.

Indianapolis, 14.—Additional returns, this morning, do not change the estimate given, yesterday, on the state ticket. Peale, republican, for Congress, in the Seventh District, is elected. The congressional delegation stands, republicans, 8; democrats, 6.

Washington, 13.—The news to-day of republican triumphs in Ohio have been heard from. According to these figures the democratic gain for Lang, secretary of state, is 3,963; gains for Townsend, republican, are 5,144; net democratic gain, 2,849.

Indianapolis, 14.—Additional returns, this morning, do not change the estimate given, yesterday, on the state ticket. Peale, republican, for Congress, in the Seventh District, is elected. The congressional delegation stands, republicans, 8; democrats, 6.

Washington, 13.—The news to-day of republican triumphs in Ohio have been heard from. According to these figures the democratic gain for Lang, secretary of state, is 3,963; gains for Townsend, republican, are 5,144; net democratic gain, 2,849.

Indianapolis, 14.—Additional returns, this morning, do not change the estimate given, yesterday, on the state ticket. Peale, republican, for Congress, in the Seventh District, is elected. The congressional delegation stands, republicans, 8; democrats, 6.

Washington, 13.—The news to-day of republican triumphs in Ohio have been heard from. According to these figures the democratic gain for Lang, secretary of state, is 3,963; gains for Townsend, republican, are 5,144; net democratic gain, 2,849.

Indianapolis, 14.—Additional returns, this morning, do not change the estimate given, yesterday, on the state ticket. Peale, republican, for Congress, in the Seventh District, is elected. The congressional delegation stands, republicans, 8; democrats, 6.

Washington, 13.—The news to-day of republican triumphs in Ohio have been heard from. According to these figures the democratic gain for Lang, secretary of state, is 3,963; gains for Townsend, republican, are 5,144; net democratic gain, 2,849.

Indianapolis, 14.—Additional returns, this morning, do not change the estimate given, yesterday, on the state ticket. Peale, republican, for Congress, in the Seventh District, is elected. The congressional delegation stands, republicans, 8; democrats, 6.

Washington, 13.—The news to-day of republican triumphs in Ohio have been heard from. According to these figures the democratic gain for Lang, secretary of state, is 3,963; gains for Townsend, republican, are 5,144; net democratic gain, 2,849.

Indianapolis, 14.—Additional returns, this morning, do not change the estimate given, yesterday, on the state ticket. Peale, republican, for Congress, in the Seventh District, is elected. The congressional delegation stands, republicans, 8; democrats, 6.

Washington, 13.—The news to-day of republican triumphs in Ohio have been heard from. According to these figures the democratic gain for Lang, secretary of state, is 3,963; gains for Townsend, republican, are 5,144; net democratic gain, 2,849.

Indianapolis, 14.—Additional returns, this morning, do not change the estimate given, yesterday, on the state ticket. Peale, republican, for Congress, in the Seventh District, is elected. The congressional delegation stands, republicans, 8; democrats, 6.

Washington, 13.—The news to-day of republican triumphs in Ohio have been heard from. According to these figures the democratic gain for Lang, secretary of state, is 3,963; gains for Townsend, republican, are 5,144; net democratic gain, 2,849.

Indianapolis, 14.—Additional returns, this morning, do not change the estimate given, yesterday, on the state ticket. Peale, republican, for Congress, in the Seventh District, is elected. The congressional delegation stands, republicans, 8; democrats, 6.

Washington, 13.—The news to-day of republican triumphs in Ohio have been heard from. According to these figures the democratic gain for Lang, secretary of state, is 3,963; gains for Townsend, republican, are 5,144; net democratic gain, 2,849.

Indianapolis, 14.—Additional returns, this morning, do not change the estimate given, yesterday, on the state ticket. Peale, republican, for Congress, in the Seventh District, is elected. The congressional delegation stands, republicans, 8; democrats, 6.

Washington, 13.—The news to-day of republican triumphs in Ohio have been heard from. According to these figures the democratic gain for Lang, secretary of state, is 3,963; gains for Townsend, republican, are 5,144; net democratic gain, 2,849.

Indianapolis, 14.—Additional returns, this morning, do not change the estimate given, yesterday, on the state ticket. Peale, republican, for Congress, in the Seventh District, is elected. The congressional delegation stands, republicans, 8; democrats, 6.

Washington, 13.—The news to-day of republican triumphs in Ohio have been heard from. According to these figures the democratic gain for Lang, secretary of state, is 3,963; gains for Townsend, republican, are 5,144; net democratic gain, 2,849.

Indianapolis, 14.—Additional returns, this morning, do not change the estimate given, yesterday, on the state ticket. Peale, republican, for Congress, in the Seventh District, is elected. The congressional delegation stands, republicans, 8; democrats, 6.

Washington, 13.—The news to-day of republican triumphs in Ohio have been heard from. According to these figures the democratic gain for Lang, secretary of state, is 3,963; gains for Townsend, republican, are 5,144; net democratic gain, 2,849.

Indianapolis, 14.—Additional returns, this morning, do not change the estimate given, yesterday, on the state ticket. Peale, republican, for Congress, in the Seventh District, is elected. The congressional delegation stands, republicans, 8; democrats, 6.

Washington, 13.—The news to-day of republican triumphs in Ohio have been heard from. According to these figures the democratic gain for Lang, secretary of state, is 3,963; gains for Townsend, republican, are 5,144; net democratic gain, 2,849.

Indianapolis, 14.—Additional returns, this morning, do not change the estimate given, yesterday, on the state ticket. Peale, republican, for Congress, in the Seventh District, is elected. The congressional delegation stands, republicans, 8; democrats, 6.

Washington, 13.—The news to-day of republican triumphs in Ohio have been heard from. According to these figures the democratic gain for Lang, secretary of state, is 3,963; gains for Townsend, republican, are 5,144; net democratic gain, 2,849.

Indianapolis, 14.—Additional returns, this morning, do not change the estimate given, yesterday, on the state ticket. Peale, republican, for Congress, in the Seventh District, is elected. The congressional delegation stands, republicans, 8; democrats, 6.

Washington, 13.—The news to-day of republican triumphs in Ohio have been heard from. According to these figures the democratic gain for Lang, secretary of state, is 3,963; gains for Townsend, republican, are 5,144; net democratic gain, 2,849.

Indianapolis, 14.—Additional returns, this morning, do not change the estimate given, yesterday, on the state ticket. Peale, republican, for Congress, in the Seventh District, is elected. The congressional delegation stands, republicans, 8; democrats, 6.

Washington, 13.—The news to-day of republican triumphs in Ohio have been heard from. According to these figures the democratic gain for Lang, secretary of state, is 3,963; gains for Townsend, republican, are 5,144; net democratic gain, 2,849.

Indianapolis, 14.—Additional returns, this morning, do not change the estimate given, yesterday, on the state ticket. Peale, republican, for Congress, in the Seventh District, is elected. The congressional delegation stands, republicans, 8; democrats, 6.

Washington, 13.—The news to-day of republican triumphs in Ohio have been heard from. According to these figures the democratic gain for Lang, secretary of state, is 3,963; gains for Townsend, republican, are 5,144; net democratic gain, 2,849.

Indianapolis, 14.—Additional returns, this morning, do not change the estimate given, yesterday, on the state ticket. Peale, republican, for Congress, in the Seventh District, is elected. The congressional delegation stands, republicans, 8; democrats, 6.

Washington, 13.—The news to-day of republican triumphs in Ohio have been heard from. According to these figures the democratic gain for Lang, secretary of state, is 3,963; gains for Townsend, republican, are 5,144; net democratic gain, 2,849.

Indianapolis, 14.—Additional returns, this morning, do not change the estimate given, yesterday, on the state ticket. Peale, republican, for Congress, in the Seventh District, is elected. The congressional delegation stands, republicans, 8; democrats, 6.

Washington, 13.—The news to-day of republican triumphs in Ohio have been heard from. According to these figures the democratic gain for Lang, secretary of state, is 3,963; gains for Townsend, republican, are 5,144; net democratic gain, 2,849.

Indianapolis, 14.—Additional returns, this morning, do not change the estimate given, yesterday, on the state ticket. Peale, republican, for Congress, in the Seventh District, is elected. The congressional delegation stands, republicans, 8; democrats, 6.

Washington, 13.—The news to-day of republican triumphs in Ohio have been heard from. According to these figures the democratic gain for Lang, secretary of state, is 3,963; gains for Townsend, republican, are 5,144; net democratic gain, 2,849.

Indianapolis, 14.—Additional returns, this morning, do not change the estimate given, yesterday, on the state ticket. Peale, republican, for Congress, in the Seventh District, is elected. The congressional delegation stands, republicans, 8; democrats, 6.

Washington, 13.—The news to-day of republican triumphs in Ohio have been heard from. According to these figures the democratic gain for Lang, secretary of state, is 3,963; gains for Townsend, republican, are 5,144; net democratic gain, 2,849.

Indianapolis, 14.—Additional returns, this morning, do not change the estimate given, yesterday, on the state ticket. Peale, republican, for Congress, in the Seventh District, is elected. The congressional delegation stands, republicans, 8; democrats, 6.

Washington, 13.—The news to-day of republican triumphs in Ohio have been heard from. According to these figures the democratic gain for Lang, secretary of state, is 3,963; gains for Townsend, republican, are 5,144; net democratic gain, 2,849.

Indianapolis, 14.—Additional returns, this morning, do not change the estimate given, yesterday, on the state ticket. Peale, republican, for Congress, in the Seventh District, is elected. The congressional delegation stands, republicans, 8; democrats, 6.

Washington, 13.—The news to-day of republican triumphs in Ohio have been heard from. According to these figures the democratic gain for Lang, secretary of state, is 3,963; gains for Townsend, republican, are 5,144; net democratic gain, 2,849.

Indianapolis, 14.—Additional returns, this morning, do not change the estimate given, yesterday, on the state ticket. Peale, republican, for Congress, in the Seventh District, is elected. The congressional delegation stands, republicans, 8; democrats, 6.

Washington, 13.—The news to-day of republican triumphs in Ohio have been heard from. According to these figures the democratic gain for Lang, secretary of state, is 3,963; gains for Townsend, republican, are 5,144; net democratic gain, 2,849.

Indianapolis, 14.—Additional returns, this morning, do not change the estimate given, yesterday, on the state ticket. Peale, republican, for Congress, in the Seventh District, is elected. The congressional delegation stands, republicans, 8; democrats, 6.

Washington, 13.—The news to-day of republican triumphs in Ohio have been heard from. According to these figures the democratic gain for Lang, secretary of state, is 3,963; gains for Townsend, republican, are 5,144; net democratic gain, 2,849.

Indianapolis, 14.—Additional returns, this morning, do not change the estimate given, yesterday, on the state ticket. Peale, republican, for Congress, in the Seventh District, is elected. The congressional delegation stands, republicans, 8; democrats, 6.

GRANT AS AN ORATOR.

Boston, 13.—Grant, in his speech, still referring to our relations with Mexico, said: "We are not particularly generous to our neighbors at our expense (laughter and applause), but when we can benefit ourselves and them too greatly, we are the most generous people in the world. I found in Mexico, a country which I visited a good many years ago, just on the eve of a great advance, and they were very desirous to extend their foreign commerce. A portion of the thinking people were alarmed at a little at the approach of the American population and American railroads on their borders; but they were fully alive to the necessity and importance of railroads in their own country. They consulted with me very freely and very confidentially, I may say pretty much all the time I was there, and I did say all I could to allay their apprehensions of danger from the approach of the universal Yankee. They have a very lively recollection of the Mexican war, which resulted in such a loss of territory. From occasional loss remarks in newspapers and by individuals they are afraid that the approach of the Yankee and American enterprise and railroads means an attempt to ruin their country. I assured them they need have no apprehensions; that at all events, if there is any danger, the best way to allay it was to cultivate the best and most intimate commercial relations between the two republics (applause); that if they used to keep aloof from us and benefit European nations by their trade, to the exclusion of us, they made enemies of their neighbors. I told them that was not a good policy, and sold them their apprehensions were well founded twenty years ago, because, at that time, we had an institution, a never existing except where it existed, and that it would not exist in any country longer than it could retain political control, hence the territory where slavery could be retained necessary to the existence of that institution. We were a people of homogeneous institutions from one end of the country to the other, and I believed it was almost the universal sentiment of our people that we wanted no territory. We had no filibuster for that. If we ever acquired territory it would have to be with the consent of the people occupying that territory and our own consent. (Cries of "Good" and "applause.") It seemed to very much satisfy those with whom I talked, and they asked me to interest myself in having American capital extended to their country to build up their roads. They would aid them with right of way and free admission of the material required, and give a liberal subsidy if they could be assured of the building of roads. There is no secret of the capacity of Mexico for production if you think about it. We now have an important business of nearly $2,000,000 of tropical and semi-tropical products. Mexico could produce the whole of them if she had railroads to give her an outlet for them, and her people have the industry to do it, a fact not generally credited, nor did I believe it until I was there this last time. With their climate, industry, and everything required to produce all those tropical and semi-tropical products, which, as I said, amount to about $2,000,000 a year, and are increasing as we are increasing in our products and wealth, we are now getting those products from countries where they are largely produced by slave labor. We are constantly paying into their treasuries large amounts annually for duties, and we give them back nothing but sterling exchange.

FOREIGN.

Dublin, 14.—It is expected that government will begin proceedings against the Land League leaders on an extensive scale.

It is not true that the leading league have been arrested before presentation.

St. Petersburg, 14.—There is an unconfirmed official rumor that the minister of foreign affairs learns that a further stay of the Chinese embassy here is considered unnecessary.

Later—This is utterly denied.

Valparaiso, 14.—Representatives of the threeelligent Bolivians, Chili and Peru, will meet on board the United States man-of-war at Africa.

It is understood that one stipulation will be that hostilities may be continued pending the negotiations.

Paris, 14.—The United States minister left Valparaiso, today, for Africa, to be present at the meeting.

Cape Town, 14.—Despatches and burned the telegraph office and barracks. Col. Bayley, with 500 men, has besieged Meuse.

Constantinople, 14.—The ambassadors will notify the Sultan that the demonstration has been abandoned, its object having been attained.

Paris, 10.—It is understood that the prefects desire the instantaneous and universal enforcement of religious decrees in order to avoid agitation with the triennial municipal elections in November and January. This will likely make a larger scale of proceedings against the unauthorized religious orders. The managers of two newspapers have been imprisoned for libeling the president.

London, 13.—"Microphone" won the Newmarket handicap; "Cradle" second, "Gill Bias" third.

It is stated that the notorious M'me Rachel, the so-called "Female Beau-tifier," has died in prison. She was convicted of fraud in August, 1878, and condemned to penal servitude.

Constantinople, 14.—The shah of Persia has telegraphed the Sultan, demanding that a Turkish army corps be sent to the frontier to assist Persia in quelling the Kurdish outbreak.

California Church Members.

New York, 14.—The World says: In the Episcopal convention, yesterday, Rev. E. C. Cowan, of California, spoke of the needs of a church in that state. "I can," said he, "go up and down the aisles of the churches in San Francisco and read on the pews the names of men worth up to $50,000 and of others who are worth hundreds of thousands, but you never see those men in the pews or even their families. The capital of that state, great as it is, is not accessible to any religion. Bishop Winfield, of Northern California, has given $60,000 of his own fortune to save the educational interests of the church. I have, in my congregation, a man who cannot be kept from giving, but he is a phenomenon. When he heard that there was doubt of my coming here and that the question of finance had something to do with it, he solved that question."

Father Treanor's Funeral.

New York, 14.—The funeral of Father Treanor, took place this morning, at St. Lawrence's church. The obituary notices say that Yorkville, the scene of his labors, is like a house of mourning. From 10,000 to 15,000 people feel personally his loss. A solemn requiem mass was sung at his obsequies. One hundred priests from this and neighboring cities occupied seats in the chancel. Among those present were John Kelly, Judge Donohoe, who was with Father Treanor at the time of the accident, and Recorder Smythe. The church was packed with people and an immense crowd was unable to obtain entrance. The remains were conveyed West Park, near Foughkeeps for interment.

Domestic.

Chicago, 14.—The cheap transportation convention today had 400 delegates present. M. T. Fowler was elected president. The discussion became general and animated.

Boston, 14.—A few greenbackers have nominated Wendell Phillips for Congress.

Detroit, 14.—A fire in Stanton, destroyed $50,000 worth of property yesterday.

New York, 14.—The registration, today, was 72,682; total for the two days, 145,270; against 80,054 the first two days of last year. Thirteen arrests of persons have been made for attempting to register on 1880 papers.

Fatal Flamingo—Children Burned.

Bradford, Pa., 14.—The house of Mrs. George O'Reilly, at Prenticeville, burned, with two children.

Carlinville, Ill., 14.—The residence of Jesse Jordon, near here, burned, Tuesday night, and three children perished.

Shelbyville, Ind., 14.—A fire in the furniture factory of Conroy, Waller & Dupre, and several adjoining buildings, caused a loss of $35,000. Partially insured.

Democratic National Committee.

New York, 14.—The democratic national executive committee is in session this afternoon. Among the members present are Senator Barstow and Messrs. Scott, Hamilton, Smalley of Vermont, of New York, Barnes of Georgia, and Cleveland and New Jersey. Result of October elections and the prosecution of the campaign are, it is understood, the subjects under consideration.

MUSEUM.

OPPOSITE THE TABERNACLE GATE, SALT LAKE CITY.

JOSEPH L. BILFORD, Curator.

SALT LAKE THEATRE

Positively Last Opportunity

Of witnessing the Great

EGYPTIAN

MYSTERY!

Saturday Afternoon

and

Saturday Evening,

October 16, 1880.

POSITIVELY LAST EXHIBITION.

Pronounced by the Press and Public to be THE MOST ENTERTAINING AND MYSTIC PERFORMANCE EVER WITNESSED

REDUCED PRICES:

MATINEE—Adults 25c.

Children 15c.

EVENING—Parquet and First Circle, 50c.

Second and Third Circle, 25c.

No Extra Charge for Reserved Seats.

SALT LAKE THEATRE